Notes:

Summer 2018 Program Budget

In our commitment to offering experiential and interdisciplinary learning opportunities, the International Center has worked to reduce the costs of our international faculty-led programs to make them accessible to as many students as possible.

Included in the Study Abroad Program Cost billed to MU Student Account:

Tuition, MU technology fee, program fee, GeoBlue Medical Insurance/UHC Global, and study abroad program administration. The program fee includes: advising, pre-departure assistance, registration, faculty costs, and on-site services (accommodation, local transportation, required field trips and admission fees, and some meals).

Tuition for this program is based on the amount of MU credits listed above. Tuition amounts listed are based on fall 2017. Tuition rates for summer 2018 will be set in spring 2018.

Non-resident tuition charges apply. MU students should be eligible to use their non-resident scholarship towards the program costs unless they are not applicable during the summer term.

If enrollment for this program exceeds budgeted estimates, the program fee may be reduced. However, a program fee reduction is never guaranteed.

Estimated Additional Expenses (Not Included in Program Cost):

In addition to the program costs paid to MU, you will have expenses associated with international travel and living abroad. The amounts listed are estimated costs based on current exchange rates and on the information available to us online, through past participants, program leaders, and overseas contacts. Depending on your personal spending habits, you may spend more or less than the figures provided. These costs are NOT billed to your MU student account and not all students will incur the costs listed.

The Standard Personal Expense Allowance is a fixed amount: $50 - $75 per week, depending on location. This amount represents expenses that a student may incur in the course of day to day living while you are abroad, such as, clothing, personal items, laundry, going to a movie, etc. It is provided for personal planning purposes only and does not represent a direct cost of attending the program abroad. Please note that these expenses do not include vacation travel or sightseeing.

*Amounts listed are anticipated costs and are subject to change as a result of international economic factors, tuition increases, decreased student numbers, etc. Budget listed is for summer 2018 and subject to change.
